A change has certainly come over the spirit of Chinese officials in this respect. The telegraph was, not long since, apparently their bete noir; now it has been suddonly taken into great favour by them. Something more than a mere suspicion of the real truth with regard to the unceasing opposition offered to the construction of the Amoy-Foochow line dawns upon us in the light of this new partiality of the mandarins for this invention. They objected not to the telegraph itself, so much as to allowing foreigners to acquire a public work on Chinese soil. The same spirit prompted them, when they beheld the Shanghai and Woosung railway an accomplished fact, to purchase it at any price and work it themselves. The manner in which the Great Northern Telegraph Company was treated must still be fresh in the recollection of most residents in China. The literati of Folkien. acting, there is no doubt, in league with the officials, stirred up the populace to a great pitch of excitement and hatred of the innovation which the "harbarians" sought to creet on their soil, with the result that the line stolen or injured, and the constructing party insulted and maltrested. Even when the prorincial Government took over the scheme, his own experience. and engaged the Company to make the line, the annoyances and thefts by the villagers engine when nothing was said that a monthly along the route still continued unabated, and tenancy arose. at length in sheer disgust the Company threw up the undertaking, and as a compromise a school of telegraphy was opened for the instruction of Chinese youth. When the new agreement was made nothing was said about the old arrangement of three months' notice, and it was not contended, by the plaintiffs that the condition of three months notice was incorporated, but they saw now why it was claimed. Their case at first was a three months' tenancy. I would beg to suggest, on the part of the Secretaries, that you pass a resolution later on authorising the cancelment of the Kechong mortgage on the 5th of last April, and that you empower the Consulting Committee to deal with the balance now in Russell & Co.'s hands as they may deem best, having regard to the new organization. With regard to Article 43, the purpose of the Special Reserve Fund is so fully detailed in the Articles of Agreement that I think it needs no explanation: It has been thought, in the interest of the busi ness, to leave this fund very much under the control of the Directors, but every annual general meeting will have power to deal with it will now propose the adoption of the printed resolution, asking your permission to take the new Articles of Agreement as read. on and after the 1st day of October, 1877, the so far as received are favourable, and, allowing for present Articles of Agreement be annulled and that the following Articles be substituted therefor. 2.—That as soon as practicable after October 1st. 1877, the Secretaries, under instructions of the Association to the amount required by the new Articles of Agreement, by making a return to the Shareholders of 150 Taels per share, and shall issue new certificates for share, in exchange for those now existing. 3.—That as early as practicable in the year 1878, the Secretaries shall estimate as pleasly as possible the results of the business for the fiscal year ending September 30th. 1877, and after making due provision for all outdivision of profits, if any, among Policy-holders. shall distribute among the Shareholders such asum per share as the Directors shall deem advisable in lieu of all dividends for the said fiscal year. 4. Mr. C. Lucas seconded the motion. Mr. Young said it seesmed to him that the new Association was being constituted as a Limited Company. He would like to know whether that principle was to be enforced or not? The CHAIRMAN replied that the clause in the new Articles, referring to the matter, was simply a repetition, in different words, of the clause in the old Articles. There was a clause in every policy or other document under which the Association contracted any liability specially mentioning this limitation of Shareholders' liability. so that everyone doing business with the Association had due notice. Mr. Brown suggested that the word-"-Limited " might be added after Association." The CHAIRMAN I think it would be impossible to adopt that suggestion. If it were adopted the Association might be mistaken for a Limited Company under the English Act,

The motion was then put to the vote, and nunimously adopted. Mr. Young said a resolution had been placed in his hands, and it afforded him much pleasure in laying it before the meeting. HAKODATE,

The events of the past fortnight have no tended much to relieve the dull monotony of lif at this port. The movements in shipping hav been almost confined to the small steamers the Kaitakushi, and native fore-and-aft schooner The Swedish barque Hednig left with a full carg for Shanghai on the 14th. All passenger arriving by junks and other vessels are "inter viewed" by officials of the paternal government who keep a steam-launch for boarding purpose Military lories are collecting for despatch to th South, but the numbers are insignificant, onl about six hundred having been mustered up the present time. The antives continue building all actooners for the coast trade. They are generally weak in construction, and indifferently titted out, but seem to serve tolerably well the purpose of their owners, and suit the limited capital on which such persons trade. One of a better class, a schooner of about ninety tons register, was launched by Mesers. Thompson and Bewick on the 12th. She was christened the Ottosei, and I understand is to be placed under the British fiag. Captain Will, the owner, takes command himself. She is expected to be ready for sea in a few days.

No Mitsu Bishi steamer has put in an appearance since the war in the South took dehnite o form, but overland mails arrive with tolerable. regularity by way of Awomori, reaching this sometimes within seven days from Tokio. The foreign agent of the M. B. M. S. S. Company was recalled to Tokic last month, much to the detriment of the spread of the Gospel among the intelligent natives of this city, though it is reported that considerable progress is making at Sztaporo, where all the foreign employes of the Kaitakushi are now located. A very fair quality of lager beer has been manufactured there, which at any rate cannot fail to have a civilizing effect. -Japan Gazette Correspondent.

THE LITTLE BROOK. (FROM THE GERMAN OF GOLTHE.) Little brook, clear and silver bright, Onward you hasten day and night; There I stand, longing sore to know, Whence and whither you gently flow.

I come from dark and gloomy rocks; I pass by castles, churches, flooks; In my waters are mirrored, fair, The white clouds, sailing over there.

Onward with childlike faith I flow Whither I'm driven, I don't know, He, who animoned me into birth, Will be my guide through the weary earth. —A. SINRENAL in the Charing Cross Magazine.

AGATES. According to Professor Ruskin, some agates appear to be of the nature of concretions formed from within, round a nucleus; these would consist of chalcedony or jasper in the inner portions, and have distinctly crystallised exteriors. There is another class of agates composed of external bands of chalcedony or jasper, stalactitically deposited in a cavity which may either have a hollow centre, or one filled up with crystals of quartz. There appear, however, to be intermediate varieties in which concretionary or stalactitic formations have been combined with or interrupted by, other modes of growth Some of the most curious and beautiful agates are those containing deadritic crystallisations; in these, we see, in the more or less transparent chalcedony which in these agates is not banded, wondervery closely resembling vegetable forms The valuable stones from Mocha contain ferruginous brown or black inclosures, whilst some of the dendritic agates from India are filled with a bright green networth of what appear to be filaments of conferve. These dendritic forms in the moss agates are mostly the oxides of iron or mangamese; or in the green Indian pebbles. delessite or chlorite. The question of their origin is a difficult one. In some agates the dendrites may have resulted from a regregation of the oxides of the metals from the colloid or partially crystallised silica; in may have been consolidated around previously existing crystallisations.
